Casual Entertaining Idea

Luna Di Luna Garlic Mussels

In a large pan, sauté some garlic in olive oil (a little or a lot, whichever you prefer), add your favorite herbs (such as parsley, oregano or thyme), fresh cleaned mussels and enough Luna Di Luna Chardonnay Pinot Grigio to steam the mussels and create a tasty broth. Cover and cook until the shells open. Transfer the mussels and broth to a big bowl and serve with plenty of crusty bread for dipping and enjoy with a glass of Luna Di Luna Chardonnay Pinot Grigio.

Winemaking

After harvest we gently press whole clusters to retain the bright fruit expression in the wine. The juice is cold fermented and aged on yeast in temperature controlled stainless steel tanks.
